

sea surface salinity contrast

2010-2020

This illustration depicts the increased tendency in salinity contrast from 2010 to 2020. Projecting a 7.4% rise by 2050. This parameter represents the difference between the highest and lowest salinity values, playing a role in global warming, intensifying the global water cycle, and raising the risk of extreme rainfall events.